Welcome to fun-filled year of music making. I’m so glad to see you in my class this year! This year is going to be a blast, and I can’t wait to make some wonderful music with you.

Parents: I will be posting all our homework sheets and class notes online. Feel free to print them off at home or just use as a reference for home practice. Sheets will be posted online by Saturday, if not earlier. Please log onto the student’s page to access the homework sheets as well as additional resources I’ll be posting throughout the year. Most importantly, please fill out your contact information. That way I can streamline communication regarding class information, events, etc. As always, please don’t hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or concerns, or just want to send me some videos of the kids rockin’ their new pieces!
